

● Facebooks are a great resource for your school community. Whatever your needs, Coffee Pond can custom design the right Facebook for your school. We offer a variety of templates from which to select with some that are simple with just names and faces, while others provide a host of information from e-mail addresses and phone numbers to details about faculty and staff.

If you already produce a Facebook, then you know how tough it is to coordinate the text, images, proofing and printing. We provide a smart, simple solution that has been working for schools throughout the Northeast for more than twenty years.

We offer a variety of ways to get the Facebook delivered when you want it. Some schools need the book before the start of the new school year while others prefer Parents Weekend in the fall. Of course, the book is only valuable if it reaches your community at the proper time and we never miss a delivery date.

Our clients find that we add value and save money. Why? Because, we have publication design specialists that work exclusively on Facebooks, and since we produce so many books we have negotiating strength on paper and other printing commodities giving us the ability to deliver value. Plus your energy can now go towards other more immediate projects.

Whether it's our 24 hour "Quickbook" developed for administrators, faculty and security personnel to aid with students recognition at the start of the school year, images to upload into your internal data system, complete portrait programs, or our companion I.D. card service, we have the right solution for you.
